Season of Pause and Promise

January and February can feel like the quietest stretch of the year. The festivities have passed, the decorations are tucked away, and the pace of life slows as winter has really settled in now. The next bank holiday is a long way away, and the summer holidays are a distant dream. For some, this season feels refreshing – a clean slate, an invitation to begin again. For others, it can feel cold, dark and uncertain. Yet for all of us, these first months of the year do offer a gift: a pause.

In the Christian tradition, the weeks after Christmas lead us into the season of Epiphany, a time when light, literal and symbolic, takes centre stage. Epiphany recalls the story of the Magi – the wise men—who travelled far, guided only by a star, to visit a child they did not yet fully understand. It is a story of seeking, questioning, and courage.

Many of us begin the year making resolutions, some bold and ambitious, others modest and practical. Perhaps winter invites us not only to change our habits and do new things, but also pay attention – to notice what brings warmth, meaning, and hope into our days. For some, this may be prayer, attending church, or immersing themselves in familiar stories of faith. For others, it might be walking a favourite footpath, listening to music, or ticking a few things off a list long neglected. Whatever shape it takes, the act of noticing and of seeking is at the heart of Epiphany.

February brings with it another moment of reflection as Lent approaches – a season often misunderstood as only sombre or restrictive. But Lent is also about preparation and celebration – preparation for a new beginning and celebration of something so wonderful that can be hard to comprehend. Traditionally, Christians mark it through fasting, charity, or a renewed commitment to prayer. But even for those who do not practise these rituals, the idea of creating room and preparing – emotionally, mentally, or physically – can be meaningful. In a world that feels increasingly crowded with information, responsibilities, and noise, the thought of carving out a little stillness ready for something mysterious but monumental, known or unknown, can be appealing.

This year, perhaps Lent can be an invitation to simplicity. Not necessarily giving something up, but uncovering what matters most. That might mean taking a weekly break from screens, choosing to support a local charity, or reconnecting with someone you haven't spoken to in a while. Or it may simply mean giving yourself permission to rest – something our culture is not always good at encouraging.

These early months of the year can also be challenging for many in our community. Loneliness can feel sharper in winter. Bills can feel heavier. Days are darker than we would like. The weather can keep us in our houses. But one of the great strengths of parish life – whether you are someone who regularly worships or someone who appreciates the church from a distance – is the sense of belonging it offers. A local church is not only a place of prayer and worship; it is a place where people look out for one another. If you find yourself in need of company, conversation, or support, please know you are welcome. And if you are in a position to offer kindness or companionship to someone else, this season is a perfect time to do so.

As the year begins, may these weeks of winter become for all of us a time of gentle seeking, preparation and discovery, whether you find meaning in faith, in community, in nature, or simply in the quiet routines of daily life.

Wardrobes and Rings – Through Lenten Lands with the Inklings

By Julia Golding, Malcolm Guite, and Simon Horobin, Canterbury Press

Drawing on the work of C.S. Lewis and J.R.R. Tolkien, as well as friends of the Inklings such as Dorothy Sayers and T.S. Eliot, this book explores through their eyes a faith which is tinged with seriousness, creativity and joy. Using their fiction, poetry, and essays, the book offers daily readings and reflections on the cross and resurrection, helping you to rediscover Lent through the lens of imagination-infused faith.

Prayer Circle

During January and February, as we move into a new year, with its different challenges, through Epiphany to the prayerful time of Lent, the PRAYER CIRCLE will be praying especially for the community of GAYTON, lovingly maintaining its tiny, welcoming church: a peaceful sanctuary in the beauty of the surrounding Wolds countryside, as well as for the village of GOULCEBY, engaged in an exciting period of improvement and restoration to All Saints church which now offers a warm, comfortable welcome to worshippers at services, to walkers on the Viking Way and to everyone sharing community activities organised in the village. We pray for all in their exciting efforts.

We shall continue to pray for PEACE in those many parts of our world beset by continuous, violent conflict as well as for RECOVERY and RESTORATION to areas affected by devastating natural disasters.

“LET THERE BE PEACE OF EARTH AND LET IT BEGIN WITH ME;
LET THERE BE PEACE ON EARTH ... LET THIS BE THE MOMENT NOW.” Matthew 5:9

Prayer requests for the Prayer Circle, as always in confidence, to Ann on 01507 313792.

Asterby and Goulceby Parish Council

<http://asterby-goulceby.parish.lincolnshire.gov.uk>

The last meeting of the Council took place on 10th December at All Saints, Goulceby, which was also attended by the District and County Councillors and five other local village residents.

At the previous meeting the Council agreed to look into external funding for 'village gates' at the entrances to both villages. A number of grant funders had been contacted but to date no funding offers had been received. The quest for some sort of grant funding will however continue. The County and District Councillors presented an update on matters of interest to the Council, particularly around the reform of Lincolnshire boundaries and authorities.

2026/27 Precept.

The Responsible Financial Officer (RFO) firstly advised that the Council expenditure forecast was within the planned budget for the year. A debate took place around the level of precept to be levied on properties in the villages for the 2026/2027 year. No representations had been received from anyone in the village on the matter. The proposed budget was presented by the RFO and after due consideration it was decided to leave the precept the same as the current year, a total sum of £4,079 across the two villages (0% increase).

Planning application

The Council noted that an application had been made for a three property development on Ford Way, Goulceby. It was also noted that a previous application in 2019 for a similar development had been rejected and also dismissed on appeal. The Council had received many comments from residents, mainly against the development for a number of reasons. One village resident spoke about residents' concerns about a number of issues. These and others were discussed at the meeting including the impact on highways, flooding and drainage, light pollution, loss of an important rural feel at that end of the village, loss of open fields. Taking these matters into consideration, and the views of residents, the Council resolved to put in a formal objection to the development, detailing the reasons why.

Illegal Fishing

The Council had received a report of crayfish trapping in the Goulceby village beck which, without a permit is illegal. The Environment Agency were informed and the trap was removed. Notices have been put up by the Agency advising that illegal fishing/trapping is an offence. If anyone spots an illegal trap (ie: it is not tagged by the Environment Agency) it can be reported directly to the Agency. Parish Council resilience

A debate took place around the ongoing issue of Parish Councillor vacancies as with only three out of six positions filled, the Council remains only just quorate and able to function. The Council plays an important role in representing Asterby and Goulceby. For example, it is a statutory consultee on all local proposed developments, like the one mentioned above. This helps ensure that local interests are considered in planning decisions. The direct links that the Parish Council has with the County and District Councillors are also important as the voices of local residents are more effectively conveyed. The Council is also the first point of contact in the village for other bodies wanting to canvass opinions on other matters eg: siting of benches, bins, road markings etc. The next formal Parish Council elections aren't until May 2027 but in the meantime the Council is very keen to welcome more residents to join the Parish Council and represent the two villages.

SOS Biscathorpe

A representative from 'SOS Biscathorpe' attended the meeting asking for the Council's continued support in opposing the nearby drilling proposal in Biscathorpe. As part of the ongoing awareness campaign there is to be a Tea and Cake event at Donington on Bain Village Hall on 22nd February between 1-4 pm.

Next Parish Council meeting

The next meeting of the Parish Council will be held in All Saints Church, Goulceby on Wednesday 18th March at 6.30pm. Everyone is welcome to attend the meeting.
All Saints Church Goulceby

The autumn saw the Harvest Festival Service held in the beautifully decorated church, and continuation of the monthly coffee mornings. A survey of the type of events villagers would like to attend was held, providing useful ideas for 2026. The harmonium, thought to be about 120 years old, has been lovingly restored and is now back in action. It was ready for the candlelit Carol service held in December. The next coffee mornings will be on Tuesday 6th January and Wednesday 4th February. Thank you all for your support of our church and community space.
Parish Council Vacancies

As previously reported, there are still three vacancies on the Parish Council, and should anyone be interested in becoming a Parish Councillor they should contact the Parish Clerk, Diane De Halle, by emailing Diane at agparishcouncil@gmail.com

The current councillors are:

Middle Cottage Diaries

Now I am the first to admit, that I don't know the Latin name for every plant, nor the courting rituals of our feathered friends, my observations are that of a Benniworth villager, who simply loves the natural world around us and may just prompt others to remark "yes I've noticed that" or "I'll look out for that next time I'm out".

We all notice different aspects of nature, both in our gardens and the wider countryside in this beautiful area we call home. Our gardens reflect this, whether neat as a pin and colour coordinated, or a jumble of different shrubs and flowers, some may not even be "proper" blooms at all, but pretty, dare we say weeds? Charismatic but mischievous as they overrun our plots.

A few years ago, Alan Titchmarsh urged us to plant drought-loving plants ready for climate change, I did so, and two wet summers later they were all dead, yet they would have thrived in the summer's we have had recently, though not perhaps in Autumn downpours!

Christmas is a busy time, and perhaps our gardens get forgotten, but I still have a couple of roses in late November and cheerful Fever Few to brighten things up. Sparrows and Pigeons now have the lions share of bird seed and scraps, well almost and I have left my wild patch to go to seed to help them, and insects too.

Now here are a couple of brain teasers for you. No consulting your mobiles! Storm Cock and Snowflake are old names for which birds seen in the UK during winter?
Answer at the bottom of page.

I'll leave you with my warmest wishes for 2026 and a verse from the times of good queen Bess, the first one that is. It has a similar ring to the much-loved carol, but the wording is a bit different.

"Holly hath berries as red as any rose,

The forester and hunter keep them for the does.

Ivy has berries as black as any sloe.

Then comes the owl and eats up as she goes".

Keep cosy, Olwyn Metcalf.

Answer to question is. Storm Cock is another name for Mistle Thrush.

Snowflake is Snow Bunting a winter visitor.
